The Moral Triangle: Germans, Israelis, Palestinians

Sa'ed Atshan, Emory University
Katharina Galor, Brown University

Drs. Atshan and Galor will present the results of their joint research project on Germans, Israelis, and Palestinians in Berlin, Germany. They will show how the relationships among these populations stem from narratives surrounding moral responsibility, the Holocaust, the Israel/Palestine conflict, and Germany's recent welcoming of Middle Eastern refugees. Highlighting their interlocutors' experiences, memories, and hopes, they will demonstrate the myriad ways in which migration, trauma, and contemporary state politics are inextricably linked.
