Unsettling the Syllabus:
A Decolonial
Feminist Intervention

In this workshop, Professor Mariam Durrani (Hamilton College) will help us consider how to include a more diverse range of scholars and perspectives in our curricula and syllabi.

Mariam Durrani is a feminist anthropologist whose research brings together scholarship on transnational Pakistani Muslim youth, decolonial feminist approaches to migration, the anthropology of the “war on terror”, and critical higher education. She is an assistant professor of anthropology at Hamilton College.
